Plans for 300 homes to be built near Blenheim Palace approved

Town councillors raise concern over exclusion

Couple to run for cousin's son

A HUSBAND and wife from Witney are running the Brighton Marathon this April to raise money for a charity that has been supporting their family through a devastating diagnosis.

Lizzie, 28, and Mark Holifield, 36, are running on April 9 to raise awareness and money for Harrison's Fund after their cousin's son, Austin, was diagnosed with the disease two years ago.

Harrison's Fund is named after 10-year-old Harrison Smith from Surrey who was diagnosed with Duchenne Muscular Dystrophy, a rare genetic condition that affects all the muscles in the body, causing them to waste away.

Harrison's Fund's goal is to get as much money as possible into the hands of the world's best researchers, who are working to find a cure for Duchenne.

The charity is currently funding 12 research projects in the US and the UK.

CONTROVERSY surrounds the full scale of the 300-home development in Woodstock as town councillors say they were excluded from planning meetings to discuss the development.

Plans to build 300 homes near Blenheim Palace were approved by West Oxfordshire District Council on Monday last week after a lengthy debate.

But town councillor Sharone Parnes is now saying that further planning meetings coordinated between Oxfordshire County Council (OCC) and Roger File, COO of Bleinhem Estates, have been planned in a secretive manner to exclude Woodstock town councillors.

He also says that the initial application of 1,200 was rejected and subsequently downgraded to a plot of 300 homes, but that this plot is still part of a much larger scheme.

He claims it could even result in 2,000 to 2,300 homes.

He said: "The fact that town councillors are completely excluded raises questions. It feels quite high reaching to exclude town councillors from this type of meeting and there is a real feeling of concern.

"The justification was that the scope of the meeting had changed. I think it was just an excuse."

The meeting was due to be held either today or February 27. An agenda item from the Woodstock Town Council meeting on Tuesday night, said: "Woodstock Town Council resolves that if the Town Council is to be represented at the February 'high level strategic meeting' at Blenheim – where Palace, County Council and District Council representatives will convene for 'Place Review'-type discussions focusing on Woodstock - the Woodstock Town Council shall be represented."

Speaking about the approval of the application, Woodstock town councillor Philip Redpath told The Guardian last week: "We are so disenfranchised, it is like democracy doesn't exist.

"They say the young people want to stay here; no they don't!

"The cost of those homes will not be viable."

He added: "I am so sick and tired of the scared councillors who don't want to speak against the developers. It is a shameless situation."

Cllr Redpath referred to the comments of Roger File, the Blenheim Estates property director, who said this development would form part of plans to build 1,600 homes around Woodstock. He also believes this smaller plot is just one part of a much larger scheme.

Fifteen hotels fail checks into child sex exploitation

By Eva Astreinidou

THREE quarters of the hotels and guest houses approached by police in child sexual exploitation tests in Banbury and Bicester failed the check.

The objective of the operation carried out between Thames Valley Police and Cherwell District Council was to test the reaction of front of house staff when a man and girl attempted to book a room.

The tests were carried out in 20 establishments on February 2 and 3 as a follow-up to tests undertaken in March last year.

Four of the eight hotels or guest houses visited in Bicester failed the test and were willing to rent a room overnight to a 15-year-old girl and a plain clothes police officer without checking the identification of either.

In Banbury, five establishments failed the test, while six stated they were full or did not have staff available to make a booking. Only one establishment denied the couple a room.

Sgt Steve Willis of the Bicester Town Neighbourhood Policing Team said: "Child Sexual Exploitation (CSE) is an issue that Thames Valley Police takes very seriously.

"We feel it is very important to work with as many different organisations and individuals as possible so that more people can recognise the signs of potential exploitation.

"Raising awareness with our local hotels and guest houses about CSE can only lead to safer communities for our children.

"CSE can happen to any child, in any city, town or village.

"Running operations like this allow us to practically test how local businesses react to a potential CSE and we can then use the results of such operations to help shape further staff training.

"We will work with the businesses that failed the test to ensure they check identification when an adult attempts to book a room with a child.

"It was pleasing to see that some hotel staff asked probing questions to our covert police officer and the girl, and then subsequently reported their concerns to the police. This is exactly what we want to see."

Deputy Police Commander for Cherwell and West Oxfordshire local police area, Chief Inspector Emma Garside, said: "The results of this test purchasing operation show valuable lessons are still to be learned.

"Our inability to book more hotel rooms was found to be more due to lack of availability rather than the actions of hotel staff.

"In every case where it is believed that a customer is seeking to obtain a hotel room for a person under 18 years of age, staff should ask for identification of all guests and contact police immediately with their concerns.

"There is a Hotel Watch scheme in place and these operations will continue to ensure the safety of those living and working in our area."

Cllr Tony Ilott, lead member for public protection, said: "We all have a duty to keep a watching eye out for anything that we may think is suspicious.

"I would encourage anyone who suspects that they may have seen something untoward, to be proactive in reporting any such incidents."

Oxford says 'yes' to Fairtrade this Valentine's Day

STUDENTS at Oxford University are campaigning for more colleges to become Fairtrade Accredited.

More than 20 different colleges are currently involved with the Oxford Fairtrade Campaign, which started in September last year and fights to reduce poverty by helping disadvantaged producers from poor countries to receive a better deal.

Over the next two terms, students from multiple Oxford colleges will put forward a JCR motion in the hope of making their college Fairtrade accredited.

Motions in three colleges have already been passed and are moving onto the next stages of planning, with many more set to follow, the campaign group said.

The Oxford Fairtrade Campaign said it wants to 'send a message to companies'.

The group said: "By becoming Fairtrade certified, we are sending a message to companies that the lives of producers around the world matter.

"Until companies know that we value human lives over cheap products, they will not make the long-term, high-impact changes necessary to ensure justice at every stage of their supply chain.

"As a world-famous institution Oxford has a responsibility to makes its position clear and call for justice."

The campaign is being jointly run by Oxford University Student Union (OUSU) and Just Love.

Anne-Marie Baston, president of Just Love, said: "Lady Margaret Hall and Christ Church already have Fairtrade certification – there is no reason every Oxford college should not follow."

Ailsa McKinlay, of Corpus Christi, Magdalen College, said: "Fairtrade does not solve every problem, but it is a significant and realistic step forward that we can take together."

Retirement village and care home welcomes residents

By George Welch

HUNDREDS of people attended the long-awaited official launch of a £33million retirement village in Witney earlier this month.

Around 750 people attended the unveiling of Richmond Witney retirement village, which provides accommodation for more that 200 older people, on February 4.

The four-hectare site on Coral Springs Way, which has been under construction since 2014, includes a restaurant, gym, swimming pool, library, shop and outdoor bowling green.

It has been developed by healthcare provider Richmond Villages, who also operate a retirement village at Letcombe Regis, near Wantage.

Fifty village apartments and 10 village suites were occupied before the event. The first care home resident moved in last week.

The care centre houses 60 beds on the first floor, as well as 46 assisted living suites for elderly residents across the ground and second floors.

There are also nearly 80 independent living apartments across the site.

Around 150 jobs have been created, ranging from care and hospitality to administration and management.

Richmond Villages said the event was designed to give an insight into "what stress-free living at the retirement village could be like", with Champagne and refreshments served throughout the day to visitors.

Guests had the opportunity to view the new Village suites, meet David Westerby, the village manager, and his team, to find out what accommodation is available and view the facilities.

The Village boasts a wellness spa, pool and gym, restaurant, a library, IT room and terrace café.

Mr Westerby said he was "absolutely delighted" by the turnout and is "hugely encouraged by their positive reaction".

He said: "We even had several people putting down deposits on properties, as well as making reservations for care home bedrooms."

Paddy Brice, managing director of Richmond Villages, added: "We are immensely proud of what we have achieved at Richmond Witney.

"I am confident it will become the benchmark for retirement villages in the UK."

Lizzie, a general manager and fitness instructor, said: "My husband's second cousin was diagnosed with Duchenne Muscular Dystrophy in 2015 when he was just two years old. It was shortly after our wedding and the whole family was devastated with the news and it really hit everyone quite hard.

"Once his parents Maxine and Steve had begun to come to terms with the condition they both embarked on a huge fundraising campaign to do everything they can to help their son and the thousands of other boys who face the same future.

"Maxine is also running the Brighton Marathon and my husband and I can't wait to run with her and raise as much money as we can."

Heather Smith, a fundraiser at Harrison's Fund, said: "Since Austin's diagnosis we have been overwhelmed by the support from Maxine and Steve and their extended family; channelling all their energies into supporting us in our bid to find better treatments and an eventual cure.

"We wish 'Team Austin' and everyone else who is running for us the best of luck. I am sure they'll do us proud."

Councillors excluded from meeting

County Council leader Ian Hudspeth said he was in favour of the plans.

He said: "The Woodstock of 1950 was far different to today. The Woodstock of 2082 will be different again.

"Blenheim has been here for over 300 years and will still be here in another 300 years, long after we have all gone.

"To reject the development will mean we will not solve any of the infrastructure problems in Woodstock; the town will continue its decline into a dormitory town for commuters."

College honoured with nominations for top apprentices

WITNEY: Abingdon & Witney College and its apprentices landed several nods for the inaugural Oxfordshire Apprentice Awards.

The event will recognise the best talent in the county at the Marlborough Enterprise Centre in Woodstock on Wednesday 8th March.

The four categories for the panel to choose from include intermediate, advanced, higher and special recognition, awarded to an apprentice who has overcome significant challenges or barriers to learning or work.

Sasha Fraser, trained by the College and currently employed by Oxford City Council as a horticulture apprentice, is nominated for the Intermediate category, whilst Lorraine Ball's adult social care apprenticeship at Home Instead in Oxford has been recognised in the Higher category. All three of the Special Recognition finalists are Abingdon & Witney College apprentices.

Jacqui Canton, Deputy Principal at Abingdon & Witney College, said: "We're excited, and extremely proud, to have reached this stage both as a training provider and for our amazingly talented apprentices."

£300k scheme to help children's centres

By Eva Astreinidou

PROPOSALS to help 12 more children's centres with £305,883 are among the latest moves to be considered as part of the transition from council-funded to community-led services.

Oxfordshire County Council (OCC) has introduced the start-up funding for 12 more community schemes to run open access services at children's centres.

Community services will run alongside the council's new service for 0 to 19-year-olds. This new service aims to ensure that families who need extra help are identified at an early stage and that the needs of children at risk of abuse and neglect are met.

Thirty-four locations will continue to receive the open access services, whilst the new applicants will have a chance to bid for the pot of money.

Those approved in the first round include Bloxham Primary School, Carterton Children's Centre, Elms Road Children's Centre, Grandpont Children's Centre, Marston Northway Children's Centre, and Red Kite Children's Centre.

The total that could be awarded to each ranges from £10,000 to £35,000.

• Melinda Tilley

Oxfordshire County Council's cabinet member for children and family services, Melinda Tilley, said: "The response of local communities has been fantastic, and we are well on the way to seeing solutions in place at the vast majority of children's centre locations. It has never been the council's intention to close children's centres – quite the opposite in fact.

"I suspect many people didn't think this was possible, but we now have the makings of a truly countywide distribution of locations where 'drop-in' children's services will continue to operate."

The proposals will be recommended for approval by OCC's cabinet on February 21.

List of applicants / children's centres recommended for second round transition funding:

- Ace Centre Charity (Ace Centre, Chipping Norton): £29.983
- Barton Community Association (Barton El Satellite, Oxford): £14,000
- Employment Action Group (Berinsfield Children's Centre): £35,000
- Friends of Britannia Road (Britannia Road Children's Centre, Banbury): £10,000 (*interim award pending submission to final round)
- Chalgrove Primary School (Chalgrove and Watlington Children's Centres) £30,000
- Faringdon Town Council (Faringdon Children's Centre): £30,000
- Grove PCC (Grove and Wantage Children's Centres): £10,000 (*interim award pending submission to final round)
- Kidlington with Hampton Poyle PCC (Kaleidoscope Children's Centre, Kidlington): £35,000
- Friends of Maple Tree (Maple Tree Children's Centre, Wheatley): £30,000
- Cutteslowe Community Association (North Oxford Children's Centre): £30,000
- D:two (Rainbow Children's Centre, Henley): £21,900
- Wallingford Town Council (Wallingford Children's Centre): £30,000

List of proposals approved in first round:

- Bloxham Primary School (Butterfly Meadows, Children's Centre): £29,384
- Carterton Town Council (Carterton Children's Centre): £30,000
- Botley Bridges (Elms Road Children's Centre, Oxford): £30,000

• James King and Conner Turner graduated from SAE Oxford and haven't looked back since

The Golden Touch

THE stock of musicians who graduated from an Oxford creative institute continues to rise after BBC DJ Danny Howard named their latest hit as the 'hottest record in the world'.

House duo NVOY has featured heavily on BBC Radio 1 recently, with their new track Golden Touch making Danny's exclusive 'hottest record in the world' list on February 3.

Made up of James King, 23, and Conner Turner, 22, the pair graduated from Littlemore-based SAE Oxford in 2013 – and they haven't looked back since.

The duo, who gigged at Glastonbury and Wildlife, say they produce "glistening dance music, fusing elements of future RnB, UK bass, and house".

Golden Touch is the second song off NVOY's new EP album 'Aurum' to be played by Radio 1, with Make You Mine also recieving airtime.

James told Danny they have been overwhelmed by the success of the new album.

He said: "It's only our first EP with Black Butter, but for you guys to put [it] up so much has been so exciting for us.

"We're always listening to your show, Annie's show, Jam as well, so for you guys to pick it up is huge."

James and Conner formed NVOY while studying for a Bachelor of Audio Production at SAE's Littlemore campus.

Marked by their club-oriented dance floor sensibilities, the pair rose at first through internet acclaim on blogs and YouTube channels before releasing You Are in 2015.

Groups stand firm against plans for new 'super council'

By Eva Astreinidou

OXFORD'S Green Party and West Oxfordshire District Council are both holding their ground in their campaigns against Oxfordshire County Council's (OCC) 'super council.'

The Green Groups on both the county and Oxford City councils are united against the One Oxfordshire proposals and are hoping that they can "galvanise opposition" and act as a focal point for those who want to see Oxford retain its own council.

Their 'Save Oxford from Tory rule' campaign highlights the unique nature of local government in Oxford, where there are no Conservative-run areas.

Councillor David Williams, a member of the Green Party, said: "This is not about geography, it is about ideology. It is wrong to impose a right wing vision of local Government onto the city when they have been successfully managing their own affairs and reflecting the views of their local electorate."

Cllr Craig Simmons, leader of the Green group, said: "The city is a cost effective, efficiently run, local authority that pursues its own agenda.

"While other councils in the county, and the county council itself, have been cost-cutting and privatising services, the city council is unique in retaining control over service delivery at the same time as maintaining services. As the old saying goes, 'if it ain't broke - don't fix it'."

• Craig Simmons and David Williams with other councillors and supporters at Oxford Town Hall

West Oxfordshire councillors are also working against the 'super council' proposals.

Residents in west Oxfordshire are being warned against the proposals with the increase in council tax, the end of free parking, and the potential of services declining.

Cllr James Mills, leader of West Oxfordshire District Council, said: "Our residents appreciate the fact that we have the lowest council tax in Oxfordshire and offer services such as free parking, which are of huge benefit to everyone.

"The county's proposals will involve creating a whole new council which would take at least two years.

"Meanwhile, our roads become ever more potholed, social care shrinks still further and rural bus services continue to disappear."

Cllr Mills is in favour of creating a combined authority model to work towards devolution and subsequently help unlock central government funds.

He added: "Rather than spending huge amounts of taxpayers' money on the new council which will undoubtedly increase council tax, we would be able to keep the efficient services and great benefits residents already enjoy as well as delivering the housing and infrastructure that is needed in the short-term."

One Oxfordshire gained further momentum last week when South Oxfordshire and Vale of White Horse district councils joined the campaign, splitting those in support and those against right down the middle.

The two councils released a joint statement on Monday last week that said: "Having looked at all the evidence, we are convinced that a single unitary council for Oxfordshire provides the best prospect for maintaining high quality services and securing badly needed investment in infrastructure."

The proposals were announced at a press conference on January 18 where councillors claimed that savings delivered by One Oxfordshire could be up to £400,000 a week.

New members welcomed to cadet family

OXFORD local policing area (LPA) welcomed new members to their cadet unit at a ceremony last week.

Five cadets and their families were welcomed to the Oxford policing family by Supt Joe Kidman, Oxford LPA Commander, at St Aldates police station on Thursday last week.

The cadets conducted a drill before being awarded certificates.

• Pictures: @TVP

• New cadets marked the end of their training programme last week

The ceremony marked the end of the cadet's 15-week training programme, in which they have learnt parade drills, first aid and basic policing skills.

The cadets have supported many events such as the Oxford Half Marathon, Helen & Douglas House Rainbow Run and the Cowley Classic car show.

Now attested, the cadets will continue to build on their policing knowledge, meeting on a weekly basis and taking part in community events including crime reduction initiatives and intelligence gathering.

Sgt Paula Greenaway said: "I have been involved with the Oxford cadet unit since the beginning in March 2015, and the lead for a year and a half.

"I am proud to be leading the Oxford cadet unit, as they are consistently focussed on supporting the community in many events throughout the year."

The cadet scheme aims to provide young people between the ages of 13 and 17, from all backgrounds, with an opportunity to develop their qualities and skills through the programme, and to enhance the relationship between the public and the police.

Man arrested after 164 bikes found in garden

A MAN has been arrested after more than 160 bicycles were seized from his back garden.

Thames Valley Police said they recovered a total of 164 bikes and arrested a 48-year-old man on suspicion of handling stolen goods on Tuesday last week.

At about midday on Monday, officers found the man pushing one bike and carrying another in Littlemore.

They registered the cycles as stolen and visited the man's home to discover dozens of other bikes.

Officers are now working through the bikes to find out how many have been reported stolen.

Police announced their discovery via Twitter: "160+ bikes seized as a result of a house search following the arrest of a male in Oxford. If we find yours, we will be in touch."

The man has been bailed until May 8.

Former scout leader 'targeted boys for sexual gratification'

By Eva Astreinidou

AN EX-SCOUT leader guilty of a number of child sex offences in Kidlington has been sentenced to 16 years in prison.

Gary Lane, 52 of Fairfax Road, Kidlington, was sentenced at Oxford Crown Court on Friday.

Lane appeared at the same court on January 27, where he pleaded guilty to two counts of rape of a child under 13, one count of sexual assault on a child under 13 and one count of causing or inciting a child to engage in sexual activity.

Lane was sentenced to a 15 year prison sentence with one year to spend on licence. This means that instead of being released on licence after serving half of his sentence, Lane will be referred to the parole board, where they will decide whether it is safe for him to be released or whether he must serve the full term.

Judge Patrick Eccles QC said the defendant will be regarded as an "unscrupulous paedophile", and added that Lane got to know the two boys over time.

Judge Eccles said: "You used the influence to become not only friendly but also to secure their trust to enable your way to 'get at' their sons; to worm your way into the affections of the family.

• Gary Lane has been jailed for 16 years for committing sex offences against two young boys

"You contrived to get the affection of the boys. You used your position as someone who had been CRB checked. [Meanwhile] you had your eye on them all the time."

Lane, who failed to turn up for court twice last year, committed the offences against two boys between January 1, 2015 and November 30, 2015 and was charged at Banbury Police Station on July 27 last year.

The court was told that the offences started happening against the older boy of the two, before Mr Lane turned his attention the younger boy.

The court heard the interviews taken with the boys individually.

One of the boys said: "The first time that I stayed at his house was the bad bit."

Following the sentencing, Specialist Investigator Rhys Bevan, from the Child Abuse Investigation Unit said: "I would like to pay tribute to the victims and their families in this case, who have displayed the utmost bravery and courage throughout the investigation.

"Lane targeted these boys for his own sexual gratification, and it is down to the courage displayed by his victims in reporting the abuse that a conviction for his distressing crimes was secured.

"I hope that the victims and their families can now try to move forward with their lives, knowing that this man is finally where he belongs."

Blenheim gets charity status

By George Welch

• Blenheim Palace

BLENHEIM Palace, the birthplace of Sir Winston Churchill, has been awarded charity status.

Palace chiefs said the move to make the historic house and gardens a World Heritage Site means "critical" restoration works can now be carried out.

Chief executive Dominic Hare said: "The palace is an extraordinary example of grand 18th century architecture.

"However both the fabric of the building and its priceless contents are in need of constant care and attention to help protect and preserve them for generations to enjoy."

The new status means Blenheim Palace can operate a Gift Aid scheme to claim back income tax on donations made by UK taxpayers, and apply for grants to support its conservation efforts.

A £350,000 programme of restoration is currently taking place on the historic North Step entrance to the palace which, Mr Hare says, is "just a small part of the annual investment required to maintain both the palace itself and more than 2,000 acres of parkland".

He added: "By establishing ourselves as a charitable organisation we are hopeful we can provide the security to safeguard this globally important heritage site for the future."

The house, which has 187 rooms - more than Buckingham Palace and Windsor Castle - was financed by Queen Anne to celebrate the First Duke of Marlborough's triumph at the 1704 Battle of Blenheim.

The new status brings it in line with other world heritage sites such as Stonehenge. There are 30 such sites in the UK and over 1,000 across the globe.

Sir Winston was born at the palace in 1874, proposed to his wife Clementine there in 1908 and was buried beside his parents in the nearby cemetery of St Martin's Church in Bladon.

The palace and its surroundings were a constant source of inspiration and many of his paintings were completed there.

Controversial plans to build 300 homes near the palace on Oxford Road were approved on Monday last week.

Harwell engineers prepare for moon launch

• Mike Kearns of Neptec with the Lunar Rover

A UK space company based at Harwell Campus will be designing and creating a prototype of a landing sensor for a historic unmanned lunar mission as part of a series of launches that could see the first human habitat on the moon.

Neptec UK won the contract to build the landing sensor ahead of a trip to the south polar region of the moon.

The sensor is being developed by a team of engineers at its offices and laboratory at Harwell Campus in Oxfordshire.

The contract, assigned by Airbus Defence and Space, is for the design of a "radar laser," or LIDAR, which forms part of the autonomous landing navigation system called PILOT.

Scheduled to launch in 2021, the 'Luna Resource-1 Lander' mission is being undertaken by the Russian Federal Space Agency (Roscosmos), in cooperation with the European Space Agency (ESA).

Sue Horne, head of space exploration at the UK Space Agency, said: "It is great to see such exciting projects coming out of the UK's investment in exploration."

Mike Kearns, managing director of Neptec UK, said: "We are extremely proud to be part of this exciting mission that will help establish the Moon as a launch site for human exploration into deeper space.

"The LIDAR technology that is being developed for this mission also has significant potential for terrestrial use.

"Vehicle autonomy is an exciting growth industry around the world and LIDAR technology plays a key role in its development."

Kerry Sanz, programme manager of Neptec UK, said: "Ninety per cent of the LIDAR design and prototyping work on this phase of the project will be done by UK-based companies and everyone involved is very enthusiastic to be part of this historic mission."

Support the Oxfordshire Guardian's charity of the year – Play2Give

A 'no brainer' – P2G founder Andy knew he had to help Headway

THE OXFORD PAPER and Oxfordshire Guardian Charity of the year 2017 Play2Give

• Andy presented a cheque to Charlie Hayes of Headway at the charity's Christmas party in December

Didcot-based Play2Give is our charity of the year for 2017 with its funds going to Oxford Children's Hospital and Headway Oxfordshire – a charity close to the heart of its founder Andy Baker

PLAY2GIVE founder Andy Baker, who suffered a brain tumour as a baby and had brain surgery again aged 12, is on course to raise £5,000 for Kennington-based Headway, a charity that supports people affected by brain injuries.

Along with Oxford Children's Hospital, Headway, which supports around 450 adults with brain injuries and their carers, is one of two major benefactors from P2G's fundraising.

P2G, our charity of the year, begun supporting Headway when Andy was referred to the specialist service in late 2011.

After visiting Headway on a weekly basis as part of his rehabilitation, he has now been part of the centre for nearly five years - and Andy wants to mark the milestone by raising £5,000 for Headway by the end of 2017.

P2G has helped raise more than £4,500 to date, with much of the money contributing towards the redevelopment of Headway's Activity and Rehabilitation Centre (ARC), which was completed last summer.

Now, P2G's focus is on helping to raise the final funds Headway needs to create the county's first neurological physiotherapy gym in the voluntary sector, including the equipping of new machines so more people can be helped in their recoveries.

Andy's goal is within touching distance as P2G has already raised over £4,500 through events such as football matches, second hand book sales, support from Sainsbury's Didcot, head shaves, raffles, monster runs and a superheroes spinathon.

Andy said: "For me, by Play2Give giving backing to Headway is a 'no brainer' as they have literally helped me in so many ways and given me so much back.

"I don't think I would be what I have been the past near five years without Headway.

"I am delighted P2G has been able to, with fantastic support, donate over £4,500 so far to a cause that means so much to me."

Andy admitted that living with a brain injury "isn't easy at times", adding: "It can be a challenge, but I never let it get me down. I try to stay positive and focused and I love going to Headway weekly.

"I have so many friends there and the socialisation and interaction is great."

Headway's marketing and events officer Charlie Hayes said: "Play2Give's support is vital to Headway Oxfordshire.

"Andy himself is a shining example of how people with brain injuries can use physical exercise to aid their recovery, and we are all inspired by and how Andy now uses his love of sport to help others get the chance to regain their lives."

Headway relies entirely on charitable donations to keep its services running. To donate, visit tinyurl.com/zksd8xx

Finishing touches to popular pantomime

LAUNTON players have been putting the finishing touches to their 31st pantomime, which opens today.

Organisers hope this year's show, Jack and Jill and the Beanstalk, will help the players push the £100,000 fundraising barrier.

The script has been written by Rod Fine – his fifth for the Launton Players – and is loosely based on the traditional fairy tales.

Steve Webber has penned the score, and golden couple Martin and Celia Evans, celebrate their 31st show as director and producer respectively.

Mrs Evans said "We have been raising money for good causes since 1991 and this year we hope to pass the £100,000 mark with Jack and Jill and The Beanstalk

"We have been rehearsing since last November, and have just completed painting the set, so some of the cast (we have 56 people on stage, and five more in the band) donned their costumes for a photo session."

More than 100 people are involved in the production, from today to Saturday, at 2.30pm and 7.30pm at the Cooper School Performance Hall, off Churchill Road.

CCTV released after theft from children's farm

By Samantha McGregor

A THIEF has stolen thousands of pounds of equipment from an Oxfordshire visitor attraction for disabled children.

A burglar struck in the early hours of last Wednesday morning at Fairytale Farm, in Southcombe, Chipping Norton.

Owner Nick Laister has released the video footage and is appealing for help to catch the thief.

Mr Laister said about £3,000 worth of power tools, which were kept in a workshop, were stolen.

He said: "At just after 3am on Wednesday morning a thief wearing trainers and a hoodie, using a mobile phone as a torch, broke into the Fairytale Farm workshop building.

"Sadly he stole all of our power tools, including angle grinders, drills and jigsaws, and all of our specialist equipment and attachments, that we have collected over the last nine years since we started building the farm.

• CCTV images of the theft have been released

"Our initial estimates are that power tools to the value of around £3,000 have been stolen. It is a big setback for us because we have to secure funding for everything we do.

"But what the thief did not realise was that we had CCTV cameras recording the area in front of the workshop, so we caught him on camera."

The CCTV footage shows the man walking into the building empty handed and back out again with the farm's power tools.

Mr Laister, who along with his wife set up the farm attraction in 2013, said: "Eventually, he spots the CCTV camera and moves it so that it is pointing up to the sky, but not before going right up to the camera to do this.

"We have uploaded the footage onto our YouTube page and we would ask people to look at the footage and if you think you might know the person who did it, please contact Thames Valley Police and quote crime reference number 43170040318."

The farm was the UK's first visitor attraction for disabled children. The couple were inspired by their daughter Olivia, 18, who has cerebral palsy, and wanted to create an attraction she could have enjoyed alongside her siblings.

Mr Laister said the theft did not stop the farm opening for the 2017 season on Saturday.

Be-Spoke weekend of female pedal power

By George Welch

A GROUP of female bike specialists will pedal into Oxford next month for a weekend celebrating women and their bikes.

Mountain bike champions, cycling commentators and shop owners are just some of the latest speakers to be announced for the two-day Oxford Festival of Women and Bicycles.

Devised by volunteers in the city, the event will include lectures on the science of saddle sores and cycle tours of the Cotswolds.

Volunteers at Oxford's Broken Spoke Bike Co-op have announced the full programme for the weekend championing women and bicycles.

The event takes place at the East Oxford Community Centre in partnership with The Adventure Syndicate – a group of female cyclists – on March 4 and 5.

As well as showcasing big cycling names and up-and-coming heroes of the cycling world, the volunteer organisers have put together a series of practical workshops to help women overcome barriers that might be keeping them from getting on their bikes.

Organiser Karen McCallum said: "It's about helping people find practical solutions.

"Broken Spoke and The Adventure Syndicate share an ethos of helping women to acquire the tools and skills they need to take matters into their own hands."

There will also be a focus on fitting bodies to bikes, with yoga sessions aimed at improving riders' strength and flexibility.

'Cheeky, energetic boy', 10, killed in Topshop incident

AN investigation has been launched after a 10-year-old boy suffered severe head injuries and died in the Topshop store at Reading's Oracle shopping centre on Monday.

At around 4.15pm, police were called and found the boy - named as Kaden Reddick, from Burghfield - had suffered the injuries "after an incident involving a store display banner".

He was taken to the Royal Berkshire Hospital in Reading, where he was pronounced dead.

His family have paid tribute to him saying: "Kaden was a loving, cheeky, energetic boy whose death will leave a huge empty hole in the lives of everybody that knew him. Our house feels empty without him."

They added: "For us the saddest part of Kaden's death is that he will never be able to fulfil his potential. He was looking forward to driving his older brother's moped, driving a car, becoming a teacher, or visiting impossibly distant countries to him such as China. It is so hard to comprehend he will never do these things."

Det Supt Paul Hayles said: "This is a tragic incident in which a boy has lost his life. We are supporting the boy's family to assist them at this very difficult time. We continue to investigate the circumstances surrounding this death, a scene watch is in place at the Topshop store and is likely to be in place for some time.

"Detectives are working with the local authority and store owners to gather information on how this incident happened."

The store remains closed while investigations continue.

The incident is expected to be referred to the Health and Safety Executive. A date for the post-mortem examination has not yet been set.

Man found injured in road

A MAN is in a critical condition after being injured on the A4074.

The 20-year-old man was found on the road suffering from serious injuries just after midnight on Tuesday.

He is currently being treated in hospital.

Police say it is likely he had been hit by a vehicle.

The road was closed between the Goldenballs and Berinsfield roundabouts for several hours while officers conducted their investigations.

It was reopened at around 6.30am. Thames Valley Police continue to investigate.

If you have any information, contact police on 101.

Scientist running for funds in memory of his grandad

By George Welch

AN OXFORD scientist who lost his grandfather to dementia is to pull on his running shoes and run a half marathon to raise funds for charity.

Medicinal chemist Dr Stephen Wren will take on the Surrey Half Marathon next month for Alzheimer's Research UK.

The 45-year-old dementia researcher started running when he turned 40 and has been doing marathons ever since.

While training for the Abingdon Marathon last year, Stephen was injured and had to pull out, but has bravely signed up for the Surrey run on March 12 after recovering.

Stephen, a dementia researcher at the Alzheimer's Research UK Oxford Drug Discovery Institute at Oxford University, works to find novel ways of treating dementia by looking at the mechanisms behind the condition.

The institute is part of the wider Drug Discovery Alliance, funded by Alzheimer's Research UK, which also includes centres at Cambridge University and University College London.

Stephen, who lives in Aylesbury, joined the institute in June 2015 after the charity inspired him to raise as much money for the disease as he could.

He said: "Dementia is an increasing problem throughout the world. It's important to realise that dementia isn't caused by growing old – there are scientific mechanisms behind it and, with enough research, we can beat it.

"My grandad had dementia and it was very sad watching him decline. This gives me extra motivation to do all I can to find a treatment for the condition.

"It affects so many people – not just those who are diagnosed, but also the people around them.

"Dementia research is severely underfunded compared to other major diseases, which is why I've decided to fundraise for Alzheimer's Research UK by running the Surrey Half Marathon.

"Everyone's been really supportive and I hope I can do them proud."

Stephen has so far raised £228 of his £300 target.

Kenneth Foreman, sporting events manager at Alzheimer's Research UK, said: "We want to say a big thank you to Stephen for supporting Alzheimer's Research UK and taking on the challenge of the Surrey Half Marathon.

"When 47 million people around the world are living with dementia, it's important we do everything we can to find an effective treatment."

Primary praised as 'pupils can't wait to come to school'

INSPECTORS from Ofsted have praised the standards of teaching at St Christopher's CE School in Cowley, Oxford.

After their visit to the school, Ofsted officers who inspect standards in education and services that care for children and young people, praised the teaching, learning and personal development at the school.

The inspectors, who visited the school in January, rated it as 'good' in all areas.

The report stated: "The headteacher's vision and dedication has transformed the school.

"She has made sure pupils' welfare and safety is the top priority and raised aspirations among staff of what pupils can achieve. As a result pupils are happy, keen learners who, as one parent said, 'can't wait to come to school in the morning'."

The inspectors praised the curriculum, stating: "Pupils enjoy a wide variety of lessons taught by specialists, including Spanish, computing and art.

"Pupils further hone their literacy and numeracy skills across the whole curriculum; leaders place an emphasis on 'real life' problem solving to develop skills of independence and leadership and to help prepare pupils for their next stages of education.

"Pupils from all backgrounds thrive in this inclusive school.

"The vast majority of pupils are confident, self-aware, and are happy to talk to adults about their school and their learning."

Headteacher Sheenagh Broadbent said: "This is such a great outcome for our school which reflects on the all the hard work of my talented staff team over the last few years.

"Our children are just fabulous and I'm so pleased that the inspectors could see how much they all enjoy coming to school and being part of one large family here."

Go ahead given for museum upgrade

By Samantha McGregor

• Thame Museum is set for an upgrade

PLANS to upgrade Thame Museum to tell the "story of Thame for future generations" have been approved.

The current 1980s extension will be demolished and replaced by a new single-storey extension, as well as a new entrance, foyer, café, library and storage facilities.

New steps and a ramp will be added to the front of the building and together with the new entrance will give the museum "greater street presence" on Thame's High Street.

The layout of the current building, which lies within the conservation area, is disjointed and areas such as reception, the library and research area, museum shop and informal rest and meeting space are not grouped together, causing staffing problems.

Cllr David Bretherton, trustee of Thame Museum, said "We are delighted that planning permission has been given for an extension to the museum building.

"Whilst getting to this stage has taken a great deal of effort, more work lies ahead of us to tighten up the specification and gain funding".

Plans were approved by South Oxfordshire District Council earlier this month.

Residents in nearby The Maltings raised a string of concerns over the plans including that design was out of keeping with the area, that it would overlook a private garden, mess and noise disturbance during construction, and the extension would be overbearing.

The museum is housed in the former magistrates' court, which was bought by the town council in 2004.

It opened as a museum in 2007 and since then has become a "valuable community asset", attracting about 4,000 visitors a year.

It is staffed by volunteers and hosts a "growing" number of exhibits as well as guest collections.

The planning report said: "Officers consider that the proposed extension would be of a design and scale that would be in sympathy with the established character of the conservation area.

"In my opinion, the extension would not be overbearing on neighbouring properties. The extension would no doubt change the character of The Maltings and may make the road feel very slightly more enclosed because the side wall of the building would be positioned in the place of the existing boundary wall."

Cllr David Dodds, chair of Thame Museum, added: "We can now start making plans about the way we tell the story of Thame for future generations.

"The approved plans will also enable the museum to have a greater street presence by restoring its original frontage."

New snow wardens rise to challenge

• Staff at Betts Butchers sign up as snow wardens

FAMILY butcher Steve Betts has joined the call for volunteer snow wardens in Banbury.

Staff at Mr Betts' Church Lane shop were first to receive safety equipment and training after Banbury Town Council appealed for shops and offices to help keep town centre pavements free of snow and ice.

The town centre scheme is an extension of an initiative started by the council in 2013 that now has almost 100 volunteers who take responsibility for gritting roads and pavements where they live.

Businesses have now been asked to get involved by gritting pavements outside their premises.

Mr Betts said: "The safety of our customers is very important to us and we are pleased to be part of this scheme.

"Spreading a bit of grit will take little time or effort but the benefits could be very significant.

"If our actions prevent shoppers from falling, then it is worthwhile.

"The council supplies everything we need, and shows us how to do the job efficiently."

Cllr Kieron Mallon, leader of the town council, said: "I'm sure many people will be grateful to him and his staff if we have snow or another spell of icy weather.

"Snow wardens are valued members of the community. They keep roads, pavements and footpaths safer for everyone."

News Bites

Canal Day cancelled

BANBURY: Town councillors have cancelled this year's Banbury Canal Day because it will clash with building work to extend Castle Quay shopping centre.

The council said construction work is due to start this summer and areas used by Canal Day would become out-of-bounds.

General services committee chairman Cllr Colin Clarke said the call had not been made lightly, but they needed to make an early decision.

Film raises £1,500

THAME: A charity film night hosted by Thame's mayor Linda Emery earlier this month has raised £1,466.

Film goers watched Bridget Jones's Baby at The Player's Theatre, in Thame, on Friday, February 3.

The cash was raised from ticket sales and a raffle on the night and will be split between the mayor's chosen charities the Red Kite Children's Centre and Thame Youth Projects.

Have a say on plan

CHINNOR: Residents are being urged to have their say on a draft local plan for the town.

Chinnor Parish Council has submitted its draft neighbourhood plan to South Oxfordshire District Council and people have until March 21 to comment.

Afterwards the plan will be submitted to an independent examiner.

A neighbourhood plan is a document that shapes where development should take place in an area.

7 TIPS FOR NEGOTIATING A CAR TRADE-IN

You've decided on a car trade-in. Although you realize selling your car yourself will net you the best deal, the one-stop shopping convenience of buying a new car and trading in the old at the dealership appeals to you.

The trouble is, dealers have experience on their side, and extracting the best deal takes research, savvy and a bold approach. Below are the eight best ways to navigate a car trade-in:

1. Research the value: There are numerous Web sites where this information is available.

After you've checked these resources, you'll be armed with the high-end and low-end sale values for your car. When the dealer asks what you want for your car, hit them with the high end of a realistic price

2. Make sure the time is right: Convertibles don't sell well during Oxford's grey, winter months, but four-wheel drive vehicles do. Likewise, if you owe more on your car trade-in than you think you'll get from a dealer, you're in a very weak bargaining position.

Follow the news and trends, When petrol prices go up, people demand more fuel-efficient cars and the values of larger cars and SUVs go down.

3. Spruce up the car: Give the car the equivalent of "curb appeal" so the potential buyer's initial reaction is positive.

You should rid the car of any pet or smoke odors. If needed, take it to a dealer or a detail shop and ask for an ozone generator to remove unpleasant smells, or have it valeted.

Remove all your personal items, wash it and vacuum the inside. There should be nothing to stand in the way of the car dealer visualising your car on his forecourt.

4. Show your records: If you've kept all the maintenance records on your car, take them with you and ask the dealer if you can get more for your car because of them.

5. Negotiate the new purchase and car trade-in separately: Conventional wisdom dictates that each transaction should be treated separately. However, rather than negotiating the new car price first, we suggest you start the deal with the car trade-in, especially if you have a fairly sought-after car.

The trade-in is the weakest part of the deal. But if you have something desirable, the only reason the dealer won't take it is if he already has two or three of the same vehicle on his forecourt.

6. What should you say?: Start your negotiation by letting the salesperson know you've done some research. "Say something like, 'I was researching cars online to see what I can get for this car,' not 'it's worth £4,000 and not a penny less'.

7. Avoid game playing: Make a phone call before you go, ask the used-car manager what the value of your trade-in is. If you get a negative feeling on the phone, you'll want to scratch them off your list and save yourself a trip.

The dealer will agree a value for your car and offset this against the price of your new vehicle. However if you change your mind and decide to sell privately you must let the dealer know immediately.

Volvo Cars gives the new face of Volvo to the V40

Volvo Cars gives its bestselling V40 and V40 Cross Country the new face of Volvo for Model Year 2017, with trim updates across the range.

CENTRAL to the model year exterior updates are new LED 'Thor's Hammer' headlights, resulting in a confident new look shared with Volvo's new XC90, S90 and V90. In the UK, these all-LED lights mark the V40 and V40 Cross Country out as the first models in the segment to get LED headlights as standard across the range. Also new are grille meshes featuring the updated and more visually striking Volvo Iron Mark.

"The V40 is the best-selling Volvo model in the UK, making it a vital car for the company. With the updates for Model Year 2017, we're making this already very successful model even more attractive to customers," said Nick Connor, Managing Director of Volvo Car UK.

The exterior update includes the addition of eight new wheels across the V40 and V40 Cross Country models, and five new colours to the V40 range, including the completely new Amazon Blue and Denim Blue, as well as three colours already used by other models in the Volvo Car UK portfolio: Bursting Blue, Mussel Blue and Luminous Sand.

Continuing its innovative approach to powertrain engineering, Volvo has reduced CO2 emissions on its popular D2 manual powertrain to just 89 g/km in all trim level and wheel options.

The V40's trim structure has also been changed in line with that of the new XC90. Customers can now choose from Momentum and Inscription versions, along with the sports-inspired R-Design and the rugged Cross Country.

In a cue taken from the award-winning Volvo Concept Estate, a new upholstery called City Weave will be added. Several new interior panel trims will also be offered: Milled Aluminium, Black Grid Aluminium and Stealth Aluminium. New tread plates will be added for the R-Design and Inscription trim levels, and an updated key fob with the new Volvo logo will be available.

Volvo On Call

The Volvo On Call smartphone app, which allows remote access and control over a wide range of in-car features, receives a substantial update. Volvo On Call already delivers wearable connectivity (Apple Watch/Android Wear), and the new Microsoft Band 2 connectivity now enables voice-control for certain features when using Windows 10-based smartphones.

Other updates to Volvo On Call include a calendar integration function that connects your personal calendar to the mobile app, allowing it to send calendar appointment destinations directly to your navigation on request. For 2016, Volvo On Call will broaden its scope and provide support for up to 10 Volvo vehicles, giving access to all the usual functions across a fleet of cars.

Volvo will also introduce Flic button compatibility with Volvo On Call. Flic allows you to program a single physical 'smart button' to perform several tasks, such as locking your car, and can be used as a shortcut to Volvo On Call services.

Volvo now also offers support for Windows 10 with a new version of the Volvo On Call application that can be used on regular PCs and tablets to interact with your car.

The all-new Mazda MX-5 RF

• The all-new Mazda MX-5 RF Retractable Fastback on sale from the 4th March 2017 • Priced from £22,195 to £28,995 the all-new Mazda MX-5 RF joins the award-winning MX-5 range • Limited to just 500 cars, the £28,995 Launch Edition features unique styling and equipment.

WITH production having started at Mazda's Ujina Plant in Hiroshima Japan, the all-new Mazda MX-5 RF Retractable Fastback will go on sale on the UK on the 4th March 2017.

With the first cars produced heading to Europe and North America, UK drivers will be able to get behind the wheel of Mazda's exciting new MX-5 Retractable Fastback early next year.

With a limited run of just 500 cars, the six model range will be heralded by the flagship Launch Edition. Powered by a 160ps 2.0-litre SKYACTIV-G engine, the Launch Edition is marked out by its unique twin-tone roof, BBS wheels, black door mirrors and black rear spoiler. Available with a choice of free-of-charge Soul Red or Machine Grey metallic paint, it also comes with a Safety Pack as standard, while the exclusive feel continues inside with Alcantara trim and Recaro seats.

Designed to offer a new dimension of open-top driving fun, while at the same time staying true to the underlying principle of the previous generation MX-5 retractable hardtop, the all-new Mazda MX-5 RF's 'fastback' styling gives it a unique appearance roof up or down, broadening the appeal of the world's best-selling two-seater sports car.

As with the established Mazda MX-5 convertible, all models powered by the 2.0-litre 160ps engine feature a limited slip differential and 17-inch wheels; while Sport Nav models (and the Launch Edition) feature Bilstein dampers and strut brace to further enhance their dynamic set up. Plus, with the introduction of the £27,095 Sport Nav Auto, the current generation of MX-5 is offered with an automatic gearbox for the first time in the UK. Offered in both SE-L Nav and Sport Nav trim, RF's powered by the 1.5-litre 131ps engine will arrive in dealerships in May.

Developed to deliver enhanced cabin comfort and a refined ride, while at the same time maintaining the agility, performance and driver engagement of the MX-5 convertible, the suspension and electric power steering parameters of the all-new Mazda MX-5 RF have been specifically tuned for the Retractable Fastback. In addition, a sound-absorbing headliner used in the front and middle roof panels combines with sound insulation around the rear wheel housings to deliver a significantly quieter cabin when the roof is closed.

"With the all-new Mazda MX-5 RF we freed ourselves from traditional ways of thinking and took on fresh challenges in order to create something new. Our aim was a convertible sports car with gorgeous fastback lines when the roof is closed and an exhilarating open-air feeling when open", commented Nobuhiro Yamamoto, Mazda MX-5 Programme Manager.

The MX-5 RF's retractable hardtop consists of front, middle and rear roof sections, and a rear screen. When the top is lowered the front and middle portions are stowed together, while the rear glass sits behind the seats, leaving the rear roof section in place to create a unique open-topped look, and a cabin feeling that combines a sense of open air freedom with the impression of being securely ensconced within the car.

On the Launch Edition the front and middle roof sections feature a piano black finish that contrasts with the Soul Red or Machine Grey metallic paint, which both use Mazda's unique "TAKUMINURI" paint process to deliver glossy depth and nuanced shading that intensifies the contrasts between light and shadow with its high-density finish, giving the impression that the body was sculpted from a solid block of steel.

Building on the all-new Mazda MX-5's award-winning design, the RF's roof up style will set it apart when it arrives on UK roads early next year. A 5mm increase in roof height aside, the RF retains the same overall length, width and wheelbase as the MX-5 convertible, but thanks to gently downward slopping buttresses that tuck in at the sides to create a teardrop shape, the RF's elegant fastback silhouette accentuates the MX-5's dynamic and contemporary sports car proportions in a completely unique way.

"If we consider the convertible model to represent the purist of lightweight sports car appeal, the new Retractable Fastback epitomises a new type of MX-5 that aims to be a compact sports car with a natural charm that everyone will find beautiful", commented Masashi Nakayama, Mazda MX-5 Chief Designer.

With pre-order now open, the all-new Mazda MX-5 RF will arrive in dealerships on the 4th March 2017 and promises to add another chapter in the MX-5 success story. Jeremy Thomson, Managing Director of Mazda Motors UK said, "we're very excited about the arrival of the all-new Mazda MX-5 RF. It will add a unique and stylish model to our range, one that stands distinct from the MX-5 Convertible, yet retains all the award-winning driver appeal our sports car is famed for.

Adding, "with over 120,000 sales since its launch in 1990, the UK has played a huge part in the MX-5 success story. The last generation of retractable hardtop accounted for a large percentage of MX-5 sales and we expect the all-new RF to continue that trend."

Meet the brand new Hyundai i10

• The evolution of Hyundai Motor's second-generation i10 • The New i10 offers new advanced active safety and connectivity features usually found in the segments above as well as young and modern design refinements • Hyundai Motor's refined A-segment car is designed, developed and made in Europe

THE New i10 is enhanced with new advanced active safety and connectivity features from the segments above, as well as modern design refinements, including the new signature Cascading front grille to enhance its emotional appeal.

"The New i10 showcases Hyundai Motor's promise to democratise technology by offering latest connectivity and safety features from the segments above responding to today's customers' needs," said Thomas A. Schmid, Chief Operating Officer at Hyundai Motor Europe. "The excellent package of the i10, delivering highest value to the customers, has made it one of the best-selling cars in its class and popular with customers across Europe – a success story that the New i10 is set to carry on."

Refined design highlights and an enhanced ride

The New i10 comes with design refinements for a more emotionally appealing look. The new Cascading grille is a further development of the Hexagonal grille with a downward tapering shape created by adding a concave element. The Cascading grille will become the new family identity for Hyundai models in the future.

In the front the New i10 features a new bumper design and new round LED daytime running lights on Premium and Premium SE models, positioned at the edges of the new Cascading grille. At the rear, the New i10 is also characterised by an evolved bumper design with a black inlay and round fog lights and redesigned rear lights with a darker housing for a sportier look. Redesigned side mouldings with a new shape and size round off the New i10's fresh profile.

Moving to the interior, from SE trim and above, the New i10 now comes with a no cost option of red or blue interior trim alongside the standard black cloth interior.

The New i10 introduces a new design of 14-inch steel wheels on S and SE models, new design 14-inch alloy wheels on Premium models, with Premium SE models continuing with 15-inch alloy wheels. Enhancements in ride and handling due to larger front bump stops, a modified steering gear ratio and magnesium steering wheel structure round off the New i10's segment-leading package.

Like its predecessor, the New i10 will come with the proven choice of two petrol engines, 1.0 litre and 1.2 litre, driving the front wheels through five-speed manual as standard or an optional four-speed automatic gearbox on 1.2 litre SE, Premium and Premium SE models..

A great package of connectivity, convenience and active safety

The New i10 makes advanced technology available to more people than ever before. Responding to customer demand for simple connectivity features, the New i10 Premium SE includes the latest connectivity features, all integrated into the new seven-inch touchscreen navigation system. Apple CarPlay and Android Auto guarantee seamless integration, safe operation and mirrored functionality of mobile devices based on iOS or the Android operating system. In order to be up-to-date, the New i10 Premium SE's navigation system comes with a seven-year free subscription to LIVE Services, offering real-time traffic and weather conditions, points of interest as well as the position of speed cameras in countries where this is permitted by law. Customers do not even have to choose: the New i10 Premium SE is the only car in its class to offer Android Auto, Apple CarPlay and LIVE Services in a single infotainment system.

In terms of safety options, the New i10 now comes with two new advanced features to actively avoid accidents, both based on the new multi-functional camera: a Front Collision Warning System (FCWS) and a Lane Departure Warning System (LDWS). Using front camera sensors, the FCWS alerts the driver acoustically and visually about collision risks arising from other vehicles. The LDWS alerts the driver with an audio alarm sound if the car moves over lane markings to prevent unsafe movements. LDWS and FCWS are optional on SE models and above as part of the Driver Assist Pack.

On the convenience side, the New i10 scores with the tried and tested feature package of its predecessor: automatic air conditioning on SE and SE Blue models, with Premium and Premium SE equipped with climate control as standard. Heated steering wheel and heated front seats on Premium SE make it an ideal companion for every weather condition and every activity. Up to five people fit into the roomy interior and the segment-leading boot volume of 252 litres offers generous stowage.

Made in Europe, for Europe – the i10 success story

Since its introduction back in 2008 the i10 has been a major success story for Hyundai Motor UK, with over 182,000 units sold by November 2016, making it one of the best-selling cars in this segment in recent years.

The original i10 alone, with its unique value for money offer, achieved nearly 114,000 sales between 2008 and 2014. When the second-generation i10 was introduced in late 2013 the model truly became a European car – designed and developed at the Hyundai Motor Europe Technical Center (HMETC) in Rüsselsheim, Germany, and manufactured at Hyundai Assan Otomotiv Sanayi (HAOS) in zmit, Turkey.

The second-generation i10 with its young, modern design and dynamic drivability has continued the UK success of its predecessor, with more than 68,000 units sold in only three years.

Johnsons Honda celebrates the arrival of the new Civic in Oxford

Johnsons Honda Oxford is delighted to announce the arrival of the first new 2017 Honda Civic models in Oxford.

AS part of showcasing the all-new Honda Civic, Johnsons Honda will have a selection of the 10th generation models, including Civic Sport Turbo, so that potential customers can view their dream car!

The British-built Honda Civic is made in Swindon and exported world-wide. UK customers will be able to choose from either a 129PS and 182PS turbo charged petrol engine with either a manual or automatic transmission when the car goes on sale in late March.

This latest Honda Civic is the tenth generation and builds on the notable success of past models. It is the result of the largest research and development project Honda has ever undertaken.

The result is that the Honda Civic is distinctive thanks to its stand-out design, comes with greater refinement than ever before, and is exciting to drive due to the new engines.

With such a variety of choice, Johnsons Honda Oxford is confident it has a Honda Civic to suit even the most discerning of buyers.

David Wright, franchise director at Johnsons Honda said: "The Honda Civic has always been a strong seller for us but the latest generation model has really moved the game on substantially. With its sporty driving, class-leading space and advanced safety, the all-new Honda Civic is a compelling buy. It even comes with the very latest in advanced connectivity."

Wright continues: "There is one aspect that all potential customers of the new Civic will welcome – the extremely competitive deals we have on offer. That's why I'm confident we can help all customers to choose the version that's right for them."

The new Honda Civic arrives in Johnsons Honda's showroom having already claimed a prestigious award. The high-performance version of the Civic, the Type R, took the highly acclaimed What Car? Award for the most anticipated car of 2017.

This is an award voted for by the thousands of readers of What Car? magazine and marks out the hot hatch Civic as the most eagerly anticipated car of the year.

Customers interested in viewing and test driving the all-new Honda Civic are invited to contact and visit Johnsons Honda Oxford on Langford Lane.

WHO could ask for anything more?

Directly following celebrated engagements in New York and Paris, this critically acclaimed and multi Tony® Award-winning Broadway musical of love and hope lights up the West End from Saturday 4 March at London's Dominion Theatre.

Inspired by the Oscar® winning MGM film, An American In Paris features many of George and Ira Gershwin's timelessly popular songs and music, including I Got Rhythm, I'll Build a Stairway to Paradise, The Man I Love, They Can't Take That Away From Me and 'S Wonderful.

Featuring its original, award-winning Broadway stars, and an exceptional company of 50 actors, dancers and musicians, An American In Paris tells the story of a young American soldier striving to make it as a painter in the aftermath of war.

Following a chance encounter with a beautiful young dancer, the 'City of Light' becomes the backdrop to a sensuous, modern romance of art, friendship and love.

Staged by some of the most celebrated theatre-makers in the world (including director and choreographer Christopher Wheeldon and designer Bob Crowley, together with the writer Craig Lucas), don't miss this breathtakingly beautiful production that The New York Times called "a dazzling, transporting musical that turns Paris into a kaleidoscope of romance".

Closing date: Friday, February 24

Dominion Theatre, 268-269 Tottenham Court Rd, London W1T 7AQ .

Last few houses available at Middleton Cheney and Kings Sutton developments

Barwood Homes, the privately owned, Northampton-based house-builder, is experiencing tremendous growth throughout Oxfordshire, Leicestershire, Northamptonshire, Warwickshire and Buckinghamshire.

They currently operate out of six bespoke developments but this will rise to over 10 by summer 2017, culminating in over 150 legal completions by the end of the year.

At their exclusive Cheney Park development in Middleton Cheney (only 10 homes), they have just two homes left; the Althorps, five-bedroom detached with double garage, with prices starting at £599,995. (Ready to move into) Viewings by appointment.

At the luxurious Little Rushes development in Kings Sutton, they have just reduced plot 12, The Blenheim, five-bedroomed home with double garage to £799,950, as well as the five-bedroom Woburn, plot nine, which has had a £50,000 reduction, ready to move into for March.

This exclusive development also offers larger than average three-bedroomed semi-detached homes from £349,000. The show home is open Thursday to Monday, 10.30am to 5pm.

Coming soon are two new developments, firstly at Kineton Mews, Kineton.

A superb array of one, two, three and four-bedroom homes which launch for sale very soon.

Also launching this spring is the long-awaited Adderbury development, on Banbury Road. This provides for a superb range of one, two, three, four and five-bedroom homes.

Each of these exquisite locations provide the typical Barwood, high-specification homes, finished to their immaculate standards.

Those who want to avoid disappointment should register their interest now and have the opportunity to add their own finishing touches.

Barwood is also currently building at Alderminster, Shipston on Stour, Wymeswold and Barrow upon Soar.

To register your interest in any of the above, email; sales@barwood-homes.co.uk, or visit barwood-homes.co.uk.

The housing white paper – some positives, some missed opportunities, and some confusion

Bill Cooper, co-author of The Oxford Property Blog and managing director of Martin and Co, Oxford

The Government's much vaunted and long awaited white paper was published last week, and it seems to signal a shift in Government thinking away from the mantra 'home-ownership = Good; renting = Bad' to a recognition that both ownership and renting need to be encouraged.

That is something that I have been arguing for several months. This shift is to be applauded.

We should also applaud the Government's desire to protect legitimate tenants from rogue landlords. However, there is still no recognition of the need to protect legitimate landlords from rogue tenants.

The recognition of the value of build to rent schemes in our cities is certainly a welcome new innovation, and this should help to meet the rising tide of demand for affordable rental properties. However, the white paper is mute on measures to encourage smaller landlords to continue to invest to expand the supply of available properties in the short to medium term.

Since the white paper was released, many of the headlines have centred on Government's desire to promote longer-term three-year tenancy agreements to provide a more stable environment for young families living in rental accommodation.

However, the housing minister has subsequently been forced to clarify that those longer-term tenancies will not apply to small buy to let landlords, who are often unable to offer tenancy terms longer than 12 months due to limitations placed on them by mortgage lenders and insurance providers.

The measures to ease the bureaucracy of decision making and improve transparency of local authority planning policy is also welcome. New housing is desperately needed across the UK particularly in larger towns and cities where under-supply is driving prices above wage inflation.

It seems to me that the Government is too focused on popular measures which it believes may result in votes, rather than taking time to think fully about the market, and how best to improve fairness and supply over the short, medium and long-term.

For example, the proposed ban on fees charged to tenants by letting agents, risks landlord costs escalating and rents rising above trend as a result. Already rents are proving unaffordable, with growing numbers of tenants being unable to pass credit/affordability checks.

There is certainly a need to bear down on unscrupulous letting agents charging exorbitant fees, but a blanket ban which stops all fees will have unwanted consequences.

The Royal Institute of Chartered Surveyors (RICS) has warned that following last year's increase in stamp duty for landlord investors, the forthcoming restrictions relating to mortgage interest rate relief will force many smaller landlords to reduce their portfolios and for many discourage further investment. This at a time when rental supply is so restricted (as recognised by the Government) also seems unwise.

So, a mixed-bag of measures which are directionally correct, but where populism has trumped analysis and clarity of purpose. Yes there are four million voters living in rented accommodation, and protecting them from exploitation is absolutely correct. But, basing policy on the assumption that all letting agents, all landlords and most developers are exploitative, risks undermining stability and supply over the coming decade.

Sudoku

The objective is to fill a 9×9 grid with digits so that each column, each row, and each of the nine 3×3 sub-grids that compose the grid (also called "boxes", "blocks", "regions", or "sub-squares") contains all of the digits from 1 to 9. The puzzle setter provides a partially completed grid, which for a well-posed puzzle has a unique solution.

Alpines are such hot stuff

By James Richings

THEY have written songs for Sub Focus and toured with Emeli Sandé and Florence and The Machine but Bob Matthews and Catherine Pockson will finally get their share of the limelight when they play in Oxford next week.

Better known as the duo Alpines, the pair will visit The Cellar at Frewin Court for the first time in three years on Tuesday, February 21, following the release of their second album Another River.

And even though they have toured the world and worked with some of the biggest names in British music, Bob and Catherine insist 'they haven't had their big break yet ' as they embark on another UK tour.

"We signed to a major label very early in our career, but that is by no means a guarantee or a measure of success," Catherine told the Guardian.

"We left that label as it didn't work out for us.

"Now we have the right setup for what we want to do.

"We still have a lot more people to reach."

Bob added: "Everyone we have worked with has been incredible and it is always so eye opening and a great learning curve to go into the studio with other artists."

Following their formation in 2010, Bob and Catherine have gained many fans worldwide, with their music used in a number of films, TV shows and advertisements. Most notably, their tracks Cocoon and Fossilised were used in two episodes of CSI in 2011 and 2012.

So you'd think that performing all over the globe or even having thousands of fans would be Bob and Catherine's career highlight to date but they quote signing to a new record label last year, which helped release their latest album, as their highlight.

"Signing to Metropolis Records last year after a couple of years of very hard work writing and recording 'Another River' has to be a highlight for us," Bob said.

"It has enabled us to do things we have always dreamed of, including a live performance of songs from the album at Metropolis studios, which included Catherine playing on Freddie Mercury's piano which was a real honour.

"But probably one of the best experiences was recording and performing with The Maccabees on their song 'Unknown' which is on their album 'Given To The Wild'."

Catherine added: "It's great when your songs are used in film and television, partly because it's one of the few ways we can make income these days.

"However you have to remember, it's just one or two people's opinions that gets you that spot.

"Other fans are just as important."

The gig starts at 7pm and tickets cost £7. It's suitable for anyone over the age of 16.

Watch out for Flying Machines

By James Richings

FOUR musicians will be flying into Oxford next week with their easy listening jazz with a rock twist.

The Flying Machines – Alex Munk on guitar, pianist Matt Robinson, Conor Chaplin on bass, and drummer Dave Hamblett – will be stopping off at The Mad Hatter on Tuesday, February 21.

And Alex thinks the Iffley Road venue will remember their visit thanks to their unusual sound.

"There is a lot of drama, changes of texture and pace in our music," he said.

"There are loud, visceral sections – I'm not a huge fan of the word 'fusion' but that's what a lot of people would describe it as– and then we also have much quieter, lyrical and plaintive material.

"I truly believe there's something in our set for all kinds of music lovers as our influences range from artists such as Tigran Hamasyan, Pat Metheny, Wayne Krantz, Troyka and Phronesis.

"I also really like songwriters such as James Taylor, John Mayer, Sting and Joni Mitchell.

"So I think a little bit of that direct, singable melodic quality finds it's way in there, especially in the more ballad like tunes."

The band was formed by Alex three years ago and they are on a 23-date tour across the country, following the release of their self-titled debut album at the end of last year.

Since 2014, the four friends from London have gained a small fan base with their tunes having that raw and authentic sound, which has made them different from many bands.

Alex knows he and his friends have chosen a very difficult career in which to make a living but the guitarist is certain that Flying Machines are destined for great things, as long as they keep gigging and improving.

"It can be very tough to make that breakthrough in music because of how many incredible young musicians that are out there who you're in direct competition with," he said.

"I think in many cases it's more about plugging away and being consistent rather than hoping for one single breakthrough.

"If you can just keep on going and giving it all the energy you can possibly muster, opportunities do present themselves.

"Those opportunities gradually start to scale up with each push.

"You just have to work hard and keep putting stuff out there that you really believe in and if you keep going, it will inevitably snowball."

Tickets cost £4 and the gig will start at 8.30pm.

A tribute to Noel

LIVE MUSIC: A Noel Gallagher tribute band will be gigging at the O2 Academy tomorrow night, Friday, February 17.

‘I turned down a Beatle’

IF Sir Paul McCartney praises your music, you know you must be doing well.

That was just the endorsement Farnborough-based musician Big Boy Bloater, who will be gigging at Fat Lil’s in Witney on Thursday next week, had.

He comes to the Corn Street venue to perform tunes from his latest studio album ‘Luxury Hobo’, as well as other tracks off his previous records.

Known for his work as a solo artist as well as fronting his own band The Limits, Triple B insists that the sky is the limit for him, as he continues to grow a reputation for producing high quality music.

When talking about his experience with Sir Paul, Bloater said: “A few years back I played a gig at the Empire, Leicester Square that he (Sir Paul) was involved with.

“He saw the band and he must have really liked us because a few weeks later I got a phone call from his management asking if we’d be interested in recording an album with him at Abbey Road.

“I was absolutely thrilled to be asked – who wouldn’t want to record at Abbey Road with an ex-Beatle eh? – but in the end it never came off as the recording dates clashed with an American tour that we had booked.”

Coy on what his real name was, the musician revealed that the nickname ‘Bloater’ was given to him as a child for an unknown reason and has stuck ever since.

He has used this to his advantage though as Triple B is currently embarking on a huge UK tour which will see him play at clubs, theatres and festivals throughout 2017.

And with Triple B being known for his lively and energetic shows, he insists that there will be a different side to him on Thursday.

“It’s going to be a much more intimate show than I normally do with my band The Limits,” he said.

“I’ll be talking about how some of my songs came about, some stories from the road and I think I may even showcase a couple of brand new songs.

“I absolutely love playing live.

“When you’ve had a terrible week there’s nothing better than getting on stage and sharing a few songs.”

Tickets cost from £13.20 and it starts at 7.45pm.

The changing face of men's wedding attire

As we welcome in the New Year, many freshly engaged couples post-Christmas, will start to make the first tentative steps to planning their wedding. One aspect of this will be the wedding suits. 2017 looks like it will carry forward some the trends starting to emerge in 2016. I am expecting to see the following trends to increase in popularity:

• The return of the bow tie. We started to see the rise in popularity of the bow tie in 2016, and this trend is set to continue into 2017. The bow tie offers a contemporary edgy look, when paired with a nice lounge suit, and works particularly well with the ever popular tweed wedding look.

• Braces – the return in popularity of the bow tie, has also been mirrored in the rise in demand for braces. When paired together, the groom is able to achieve the ever popular country, vintage look that is proving so popular at the minute.

• Tweed – 2015 and 2016 saw a sharp rise in demand for tweed suits. As barn weddings grew in popularity so too did the country tweed look. We have seen a large increase in the demand for lighter weight tweeds, suitable for wearing for summer weddings, as well as plain herringbone tweeds, for grooms looking to wear tweed, but not wanting to look like they have just stepped off the shooting ground.

• Slim fit Blue Lounge Suits – 2016 saw a surge in demand for brighter blue lounge suits. This look is likely to prove popular in 2017 also. We expect to see more wedding parties opt for a two piece lounge suit with a contrasting waistcoat rather than a matching three piece suit.

• Brown Or Black Shoes – As sartorial rules on brown shoes seem to be relaxing, 2017 Is no doubt going to see the continued rise in demand for brown wedding shoes. Both brown brogues and boots will continue to grow in popularity, as more people opt away from formal wedding attire adopting the more relaxed look of lounge suits and tweed suits.

At the Cotswold Tailor we regularly change our stock to keep up with changing consumer demands. In march we launch our new luxury tailored fit, blue lounge suits, ready for this summer's weddings, as well as stocking one of the largest collections of tweed wedding suits for hire in the county

Suzuki SX4 S-Cross 1.4 Boosterjet SZ5 ALLGRIP (AT)

By Tony Yates

THE S-Cross first went on sale in October 2013 as Suzuki's first 'C' segment crossover model. Now, just over three years later, this major face lifted model has been introduced with a more distinctive and upright front end styling, along with a stronger and bolder road presence, slightly higher ground clearance and newly designed headlamps which all help provide a much sharper look. Also at the rear, newly designed LED rear combination lamps are used to provide a cleaner and more contemporary style.

Power and efficiency

The1.4-litre140PS Direct Injection turbocharged (DITC) petrol engine is actually very compact and offers 220Nm of torque. Max speed comes in at around124mph and it will do 0-62mph in10.2 seconds. I also managed a combined fuel consumption of 48.2mpg.

Suzuki's ALLGRIP system is available on SZ-T and SZ5 models, which gives you four driver-selectable modes for safe, enjoyable driving on variety of surfaces. You could also argue that four-wheel drive impacts on fuel efficiency – but Suzuki tells me that the ALLGRIP system enables CO2 emissions to be remarkably low for a four-wheel drive SUV.

On the road

I happen to like the way the S-Cross feels on the road. The steering is a little on the light side and it lacks in feel, but I am being very picky here as most people won't really notice this when using it day to day. Also, the Suzuki happily gets a move on when the need arises and on the motorway it was reasonably quiet at high speed.

The Suzuki ALL-GRiP system incorporates feed forward control that anticipates slippage based on road surface, throttle position, steering angle and other factors. So rather than reacting after grip is lost – it controls the vehicle to prevent grip being lost which results in greater stability.

Design and tech

Some of the standard features fitted to the SZ-5 model I had on test included; ALLGRIP 4 wheel drive system, ABS with EBD & Brake Assist, ESP, Hill Hold Control, 7 airbags (driver, front passenger, side, curtain & driver's knee) DAB digital radio with USB socket and steering wheel controls, Navigation system, 4 speakers & 2 tweeters, Bluetooth integrated audio unit, Engine Auto Stop Start system Front & rear parking distance sensors, Rear parking camera, Cruise control with speed limiter, Dual zone automatic air conditioning, LED daytime running lights and 17" Alloy wheels (polished).

To Sum Up

The S-Cross is a decent car that does exactly what you need it to do. Also, when you need it to move your family and their belongings around – it can easily become the load slugger you need it to be with very little effort. Plus, all Suzuki models are covered by a three-year/60,000-mile new vehicle warranty, one year AA Suzuki Assistance, providing 24-hour UK and European roadside assistance, recovery and associated services.

THE LAW HAS CHANGED ... DO YOU HAVE THE CORRECT GAS?

We can now offer R1234YF car air-con recharge and service

Wheatley CAR CENTRE

Is your car 2013 or newer? If so, you will need the correct gas.

As of the 7th September 2016 we are able to offer R1234yf refrigerant re-gassing, or a car air-con recharge as sometimes known at our Wheatley Car Centre Branch.

This gas is compulsory for new cars from 2013 all be it has been around since 2010, although some manufacturers are still refusing to use this, notably Mercedes who are not happy with the flammable nature of the gas, which in turn means not many companies offer the re-gassing service for cars using r1234yf. But due to the amount of cars we sell we have needed to be able have this service onsite so we can now offer this service to our customers.

A common question is why the old, r134a gas found in most cars today, is being replaced?

It's driven by environmental concerns as the new gas is more environmentally friendly.

So, for ALL your re-gas and service needs please contact our Wheatley Car Centre Service Department, tel. 01865 874046 opt 2 • www.wheatleycarcentre.co.uk

Brayleys

Welcome from Brayley Kia and Mitsubishi

at Rose Hill, Oxford

Award-winning motor dealer group, Brayleys Cars, is the new owner of the Kia and Mitsubishi dealership on Rose Hill, following its recent acquisition of the business from Humphris.

Improvements are already underway at the dual franchise site in Rose Hill. Both Kia and Mitsubishi showrooms have been refreshed with upgrades including new lighting and customer waiting area. Over the next few months, the first floor, which used to house a body shop, will be turned into a fabulous indoor used car display area for up to 60 vehicles. It's expected that the rectification work will be complete by the end of June and in the meantime, it's very much business as usual.

So who are Brayleys?

Established by Paul Brayley in 2003, this family owned business started with a single Honda franchise in St Albans and has since expanded to eight locations across Hertfordshire, North London, Essex, Buckinghamshire and now Oxfordshire for the first time. The company now represents six manufacturer brands, also including Honda, Mazda, Renault and Dacia, employing almost 200 staff. In 2013, Brayleys entered the national car dealer awards and beat hundreds of dealerships to the title of "UK New Dealership of the Year," for its Harpenden based Mazda franchise, which opened in 2012.

One thing you'll be sure of when walking into Brayleys at Rose Hill is a friendly welcome. Customers are greeted at the new reception desk and are invited to have refreshments in the customer lounge, where there is also free WiFi. You'll notice signs saying, "Every customer is a welcome guest in our home – every day, every time, without fail, no exceptions." There's one on every desk because it's the focus on delivering good old-fashioned service that makes Brayleys stand out amongst car dealers.

"Adding value to our customer experience is something we care passionately about," says Paul Brayley, Managing Director.

"We treat every customer as an individual and always try and go the extra mile to help, so that they'll continue to come back to Brayleys for all their motoring needs, whether it's a regular service, MOT, SMART repair, wheel alignment, tyre-fitting or even exhaust replacement."

It's often said that people make a business successful and this is certainly true of Brayleys, which encourages a culture of entrepreneurship amongst its staff. "Empowering team members to always do right by the customer is one of the reasons we have developed a well-respected, thriving business," adds Paul Brayley.

World record attempt for Banbury Bull

A BANBURY inside centre has raised nearly £3,000 for charity as he hopes to break a world record when he and his work colleagues attempt to set a new world record for the longest rugby match.

As well as setting a new Guinness World Record, fireman and Banbury Bull Jed Boyle will share money raised between the Fire Fighters Charity and the Children of Fallen Heroes Charity.

Setting an initial target of £700, he has raised a whopping £2,940 so far.

The match will be played at Sixways Stadium, home of Worcester Warriors, from 8am on Friday, May 12.

The Fire Fighters Charity supports fire fighters whether injured, ill or in need of psychological support to come to terms with the life and death situations they face on a daily basis.

The Children of Fallen Heroes Charity provides retreat and education programmes that enable healing and develops character and teamwork skills for dependent family and friends of injured fire, police, first responders and military.

Blues raring to go

OXFORD RL are preparing to take on Coventry Bears in the season opener as the new campaign kicks off with cup action on Saturday.

The League 1 Cup fixture brings pre-season preparations to a close for League 1 teams and both squads will have a number of debutants on show.

Blues coach Tim Rumford and Bears boss Tom Tsang will be looking for solid performances to get their seasons up and running.

The Blues' host the M40 derby as the Bears visit Tilsley Park on Saturday with a 2pm kick off.

Oxford finished three places and seven points behind their visitors on Saturday in the Kingstone Press League 1 last season.

The Blues won at this stage last season, beating Hemel Stags 34-12, only to lose 54-14 to Keighley Cougars in the second round.

Rumford's side's first league fixture is on March 5, when they host the Stags, who were the only team to finish below Oxford last year.

Smith happy with progress as new challenge begins

By George Welch

OXFORD MotoGP driver Bradley Smith says he is encouraged by his start at his new team as preparations for the new season get under way.

After representing Tech3 at both Moto2 and MotoGP since 2011, Smith, alongside his Yamaha team-mate Pol Espargaro, joined new team Red Bull KTM for their debut season.

The pair wrapped up official International Road Racing Teams Association (IRTA) tests on the Malaysian circuit of Sepang at the start of the month ahead of next month's season opener in Qatar.

KTM said that, apart from a small low side crash by Espargaro, which did not result in any damage to the bike or rider, the test "went smoothly and without incident".

Smith said the early signs for the energy drink-funded team are positive.

The 26-year-old said: "I think during these three days we did what we had to do. When I felt comfortable we went faster and we didn't rush anything.

"We worked through our programme step-by-step and we tried not to make any mistakes. That's important at this point in time because development is crucial.

"Let's say we tried 12 new things and 11 were positive and that's nice for it to happen here in Sepang.

"I think we certainly have a clear indication. The team has worked fantastically.

"Everybody has made really good progress during these three days, on tires, suspension, electronics and chassis. I think everyone can be proud."

Team manager Mike Leitner said the riders "did a super job" and added: "We should be really happy because we know where we are and we'll keep pushing.

"Everyone was here and everyone was pushing. The other manufacturers have a lot of experience on this track and it's one of the most difficult on the calendar."

Smith continued his extensive testing of the brand new RC16 KTM at Phillip Island Australia yesterday.

These are crucial test sessions for the Austrian team before the start of their five year campaign to win the MotoGP World Championship.

The first race takes place in Qatar on March 26.

Draw and win add to Stars' unbeaten run

OXFORD City Stars left it late to rescue a point against Solent Devils to continue their resurgent form.

The Stars, now unbeaten in four and only tasting defeat once in the last seven matches, drew 3-3 at the Devils on Sunday, having thrashed Milton Keynes Thunder 8-1 at the Oxford Ice Rink the day before.

A Jaroslav Cesky hat-trick and a Joshua Oliver double helped Oxford on their way to their joint highest win of the season.

The dynamic duo both netted twice within 35 minutes and Jess Lye added another to give Simon Anderson's improving side a 5-0 lead going into the final period.

Tom Mboya pulled one back for MK but Joshua Florey, Michael Willock and Cesky's third completed the rout.

And on Sunday, it took an Alan Green strike seven minutes from time to earn a share of the spoils in a ding-dong battle at the Gosport Ice Arena.

Joe Edwards and Dominic Hopkins also scored for the Stars, who had to battle back from 3-1 down.

The final five minutes saw both teams create chances and it took a superb stick save from Annetts to preserve the hard earned point for the Stars.

Oxford, who have five matches remaining and are in mid-table, travel to MK on Sunday where they will be aiming to repeat Saturday's performance.

Abingdon Vale makes waves at county championships

ABINGDON Vale Swimming Club (AVSC) is celebrating a large haul of gold medals following an impressive county championship swim this month.

Between them, AVSC's swimmers carried home eight gold, 10 silver and eight bronze medals, and finished fifth at the ONB County Championships overall.

An impressive 18 swimmers achieved finalist status while most swimmers achieved personal best times, and many gained regional qualification.

Stand out swimmer Lottie James delivered winning swims across all four strokes in distances from 50-400m. The 13-year-old finished her 2017 county campaign with six golds, two silver and one bronze.

Amanda Ford, AVSC head coach, said: "Once again, the AVSC team had great success at the county championship, with the whole team performing to the highest level."

Other swimmers to catch the eye included 11-year-old Bethan Lillistone who, competing in her first county championships, achieved an impressive six top eight places.

Meanwhile, 13-year-old Seb Rawes achieved two gold, two silver and one bronze medals.

In the extremely competitive open category, 16-year-old Lauren James qualified for five finals, and first time county competitors Joseph Bradshaw and Scott Yap bagged top eight placings and regional qualifications.

Late leveller as City get second draw in a week

By Adam Flinn

A LATE equaliser prevented Oxford City from securing all three points in their rearranged fixture against Bath on Tuesday night.

Reece Fleet's tap-in had given the hosts the lead, but they had to settle for a draw as Andy Watkins squeezed the ball home in stoppage time.

It comes after City also had to share the spoils in their match away to Wealdstone on Saturday, which also ended 1-1.

Tuesday's rearranged game came after the original date fell foul of the weather, and saw a quiet start with no notable opportunities for either side in the first quarter of an hour.

City's first chance came as Fleet were gifted a free effort from eight yards out, which only just went over the bar.

Bath came close to taking the lead in the 29th minute as a short corner routine led to a low ball at the near post, which was scrambled away by the City defence.

There weren't many more chances in the first half, but coming out after the break Bath forced two excellent saves out of Craig Hill.

City finally broke the deadlock in the 63rd minute as Scott Davies' free kick was weakly punched away by Bath keeper Max O'Leary, the ball landing directly at Fleet's feet for an easy tap-in.

They nearly doubled their advantage in fortuitous circumstances as Wilson Carvalho's low strike kicked up off the uneven turf, and was just about knocked behind by O'Leary.

Bath pushed for the equaliser in the closing stages, which duly came in injury time as Watkins fired home from a tight angle following a corner to earn his side a point.

It was a different story in Saturday's match, as Wealdstone were in front inside the first five minutes as debutant Joshua Walker fired confidently past Hill.

Davies almost equalised moments later as his free kick was narrowly headed over.

It sparked a run of pressure from City, and while both sides had their chances in the remainder of the half it stayed 1-0 to the hosts at the break.

However the leveller came soon afterwards as Kaiman Anderson finished from close range for a well-earned goal in his first game for the Blues.

Again both sides had chances to take the lead in the rest of the game, and it was Wealdstone who came closest in the final stages and caused the City defence some headaches, but they held on for a draw.

City are 14th in the National League South standings after Tuesday's fixtures with 33 points, nine clear of Whitehawk in the relegation zone.

Dwindling Diddy beaten by Taunton

A DEPLETED Didcot Town suffered a heavy 3-0 defeat at play-off hopefuls Taunton Town on Saturday.

The Railwaymen travelled to the in-form Peacocks missing their number one goalkeeper, new striker, two ill players and their manager while still searching for their first win of 2017.

Taunton dominated most of the first half and were rewarded on the half-hour mark when Owen Irish nodded home to open the scoring.

Didcot weren't without their chances in the first half though, most notably when a Taunton clearance on the edge of the penalty area struck an advancing Callum McNish, whose rebound forced a scrambled save from Peacocks stopper, Lloyd Irish.

Diddy were always fighting an uphill battle due to the absence of Leigh Bedwell and George Jeacock, both of whom were missing through suspension, while Nick Thorne and Louis Joyce were struck with illness and manager Andy Ballard was suffering from concussion.

The second half began with Taunton still in dominant mood. However, Didcot, who are winless on the road since November, had more spells of dominance and grew with confidence but were still unable to properly test the Taunton goalkeeper.

Taunton sealed the three points with a double blow through two headers within five minutes of each other.

Striker Matt Wright headed in both goals to put the Somerset side out of reach, with his first on 64 minutes and his second on 69 minutes.

Wade show Banbury no love with last-minute winning goal

THERE was late heartbreak for Banbury United as they conceded a 92nd minute winner to lose 2-1 at Biggleswade Town on Saturday.

United midfielder Jack Self scored his second goal in two games on 41 minutes to cancel out a 32nd minute Gavin Hoyte strike, but, just as it looked as if the points would be shared, Town midfielder Robbie Parker snuck a winner for the hosts two minutes into stoppage time.

Banbury remain in sixth spot and in play-off contention despite their latest defeat, meaning they have lost three of their last four matches.

Biggleswade always looked the more likely to make the breakthrough in the early stages and they duly did so just after the half hour.

A corner from the Waders led to an almighty scramble in the box and Hoyte eventually got the final touch to knock the ball home.

Banbury had been second best for the first half hour but they responded positively to going behind and were back on level terms before half time.

A Marvin Martin free kick was only cleared out as far as Self, whose 15-yard effort hit the back of the net after taking a deflection off a defender.

But Banbury were dealt a sucker punch when a cross from the right found Parker to head the ball home from six yards to earn Biggleswade all three points.

United will be looking to bounce back when they host mid-table Weymouth, who have lost their last two, on Saturday.

Millers continue play-off charge

A GOAL in each half saw North Leigh secure a massive three points against play-off rivals Winchester City.

The Millers enhanced their play-off hopes and doused their opponents' chances in a closely fought contest on a heavy Eynsham Park pitch.

Winchester, who had won their previous three matches, were undone by a first half own goal and a second half header from top scorer George Seacole.

Leigh, who recently lost Bradley Gray to third-placed Evesham United, made the breakthrough against the run of play on 27 minutes after good work by Roger James.

His low cross was missed by keeper Lewis Noice but hit the unfortunate right back Olly Searle and trickled over the line for an own goal.

The Millers doubled their lead with a simple but well executed goal on 52 minutes when Michael Hopkins clipped a right foot cross over two central defenders to the far post where Seacole nodded the ball past Noice.

The Millers, undefeated in eight games since December 20, have won their last three matches and travel to 17th placed Barnstaple Town on Saturday.

Wantage Town finally won their first home game of the season with a 2-1 win over Barnstaple Town at Alfredian Park.

IN-FORM Oxford United had their impressive five-game winning streak halted by play-off hunting Southend on Tuesday night.

Having won eight of their previous nine matches – including a late win over MK Dons on Saturday – a win against Southend would have elevated the U's into play-off contention themselves.

But two second half goals from Marc Antoine Fortune and Theo Robinson gave the visiting Shrimpers a valuable three points on the road to condemn United to just their second home defeat since October.

• Toni Martinez and Anton Ferdinand chase after the ball

Both sides produced decent football in what was a very tight game and, following such an impressive run fighting on three fronts and the prospect of the FA Cup fifth round on Saturday, Michael Appleton won't be too hard on his players.

United's best chance of the night came on 26 minutes when Chey Dunkley thundered a corner against the right-hand post after he eluded Southend's defenders from a set-piece.

But Southend, who posed a continual threat on the counter, are a bogey team for the U's and they duly took the lead on 62 minutes.

Southend right back Jason Demetriou was given too much space as he surged forward to pick out a perfect cross for Fortune who headed home from 10 yards.

It was a simple enough finish but it spurred United into a renewed effort to find a way past that stubborn Southend back line.

But, with just two minutes remaining, Robinson smartly peeled away from the goal-line to head in a Luke O'Neill corner to secure maximum points for the visitors.

United left it late on Saturday to snatch a last gasp winner against MK Dons, who visited Oxford for the first time in their history.

In another tense and evenly matched contest, Kane Hemmings nodded in a Rob Hall cross two minutes from time to earn the three points and to leapfrog their visitors.

There was still time following the late winner for MK captain Darren Potter to be sent off and for Chris Maguire to miss a penalty.

Earlier on, as is so often the case, the U's needed a big save from goalkeeper Simon Eastwood.

On this occasion, the stopper, who has just signed a new

Late strike falls short for United's Women as they are beaten by Everton in league opener

A LAST minute Ini Umotong goal was not enough for Oxford United Women, who opened their league campaign with a 2-1 defeat at home to Everton Ladies.

United were beaten twice by Everton last season and fared little better in the new management team's first league game in charge in the Spring Series on Sunday.

New boss Karl Milgate saw his side, which is mostly unchanged from last year, lose their season opener 2-0 at Coventry in the FA Cup the previous week.

And they fell behind again early on against Everton when the visitors took the lead in the 13th minute.

Simone Magill waltzed into the United area unopposed and, although Riva Casley got down well to block her initial effort, the Everton striker reacted quickest to poke in the rebound. But otherwise, the U's shackled their guests without creating much themselves.

Yet there was little United could do to keep out a more fired up Everton side after the break when Kelly Jones hammered hope the visitor's second three minutes into the second half.

The margin could have been greater if the visitors had been able to finish their chances, with Emily Hollinshead, Michelle Hennigan and Milgate all guilty of missing chances.

Oxford had offered little going forward but isolated striker Umotong showed why she was WSL 2 player of the year last season with two minutes left to play.

Last season's league top scorer seized on a hopeful ball forward, outpaced two Everton defenders and coolly slotted the ball into the bottom corner.

But the goal came too late for the Yellows to stage a comeback and they opened their season with a narrow defeat.

contract at the club, kept out the Dons' best chance when the 27-year-old denied Chuks Aneke on three minutes.

The former Blackburn Rovers keeper dived to his left to somehow keep out a powerful low drive from the ex-Arsenal youngster.

But United turned up the heat on a freezing afternoon when a Hall cross found Hemmings in the box, who is developing a knack for being in the right place at the right time, whose flicked header was placed to perfection to give United the lead.

There was still time for MK midfielder Potter to trip Hall in the penalty area with a tired tackle to collect his second yellow card on 95 minutes.

But David Martin made a double save to keep out Maguire from 12-yards, whose two penalty misses this year are the first two he has missed in his career.

The U's now face four consecutive away matches, starting with Premier League Middlesbrough in the FA Cup on Saturday.

Back in the league, United take on Charlton and Chesterfield before playing Luton in the Checkatrade Trophy.

OXFORD United's shot-stopper Simon Eastwood has signed a new longer-term deal with the club after impressing since joining the club last summer.

Arguably the signing of the season for the U's, Eastwood has been in great form all season, establishing himself as number one and becoming a firm favourite with the fans.

The 27-year-old signed the new two-year deal on Monday to keep him at the Kassam until the end of the 2018/19 season.

He told the club website: "I'm really happy to have got it all sorted and be committing my future to the club.

"It has gone very well so far and I am enjoying my football.

"I have a young family so you are always looking for a bit of security for the future but it was all very straightforward because I feel as though this is a club on the up at the moment and I want to be a part of that over the next few years."

United head coach Michael Appleton, who has signed the keeper three times in his career, said: "Obviously I rate Easty.

"He needed a run of games as first choice and has taken that opportunity and got better and better as the season has gone on.

"He is still fairly young in terms of goalkeepers and I am sure there is still more to come from him.

"It is great that we will see that in an Oxford shirt."

Eastwood joined United last summer from Blackburn Rovers, agreeing an initial one-year contract with a clause that would trigger an extra 12 months if he started 30 games in the league.

He reached that milestone against Southend on Tuesday.
